

Quickbase Builder Account

You will need create/build permissions to replicate the exercises in many Empower sessions, and to practice the new skills you have learned.

Even if you have these permissions in your corporate account, a Builder Account provides a safe environment for experimentation, is free, and is yours to keep.

Pipelines access is included with your Builder Account. This is helpful, as the ability to construct Pipelines in a corporate account is dependent upon your Realm Administrator granting you Pipelines permissions.

Sample Apps on the Quickbase Exchange

Search for the name of the app on the Quickbase Exchange. You must have Admin permissions to download an app from the Exchange – another great reason to open a Builder Account!

There are two ways to access the Exchange:

From a Builder Account	From a Corporate Account
Go to your My Apps page.	Go to your My Apps page.
Click on Exchange .
